Religious Emphasis Week In Progress

A man's religion is simply what he most desires, according to Robert Anderson, Director of Religious Life, and therefore the object of this Religious Emphasis Week is for each individual to examine his desires and determine how significant his religion is.

Instead of having an outside speaker come in, the faculty, administration, and students are being asked to look into themselves and find their own ultimate concern — the object or goal that means the most to them.

Professors were asked to give statements of their ultimate concern in classes yesterday and today, and to ask their students to express their own ultimate concerns. The staff and administration are answering questions on their beliefs in seminars at 3:00 p. m. Monday through Wednesday.

Wednesday evening there will be a model Seder in the South dining hall of the SUB. Students are asked to go through the dinner line promptly at 5 o'clock and at 5:30 Rabbi Rosenthal of Beth El Temple will explain and conduct the Seder, which is a symbolic meal of the Passover, commemorating the deliverance of the ancient Hebrews from slavery in Egypt.

Following the Seder there will be a seminar in the lounge led by Rabbi Rosenthal, Reverend Soltman, and Father Toomey concerning the Jewish Passover, the Protestant Lord's Supper, and the Catholic Mass.

Interested non-resident students are invited to attend both the Seder and the seminar, which are strictly voluntary. Students not wishing to participate may leave after dinner.

Thursday morning at 7:15, open communion will be held in the Gail Day chapel. There will be a convo in Jones Hall auditorium at 10. Dr. Thompson will speak on his own personal concerns and what he feels are the central values of the University.

Dr. Williams States Views In Interview

"It is a great honor to be here and participate in the Brown and Haley Lectures, one of the most distinguished lecture series in the country," stated Dr. T. Harry Williams during an interview while on campus last week.

UPS Receives B and H Tenth Year Congrats

This year marks the tenth anniversary of the Brown and Haley Lectures. Dr. R. Franklin Thompson has received congratulatory messages from a number of the prominent lecturers the series has hosted in the past.

John Kenneth Galbraith, ambassador to India, appeared on campus in 1954, at which time he was professor of economics at Harvard University. From New Delhi, Mr. Galbraith writes: "I look back on a large, and possibly excessive number of lecture assignments in these last years. And there is none I recall with so much pleasure as this series and the pleasant week that it kept me in Tacoma."

Harry L. Shapiro, professor of anthropology at Columbia University, writes of his 1956 Brown and Haley engagement: "I was myself especially impressed, when I had the honor to give one of the series, with the spirit with which the Lectures were received by the college and the town."

The lecturer in 1958, Howard Mumford Jones, professor of American literature at Harvard University, writes: "I write to congratulate you, the college, and the city on the continuation of this excellent contribution to the cultural life of the Northwest no less than that of Tacoma."

Another message was received from Hadley Cantril, 1961 lecturer from the Institute for International Social Research in Princeton, N.J.: "As one who was privileged to participate in the series, I can testify to the value and stimulation the occasion has for a speaker . . . and most pleasant memories of the University of Puget Sound."

Scott, Stegeman, and Parsons Place First In Class Elections

Clark Parson, Bill Stegman, and Bev Scott were elected presidents of the sophomore, junior, and senior classes respectively in class elections held last week. About 30% of the future juniors and seniors and about 40% of the future sophomores voted in the elections.

Miss Scott and Joe Mathews tied in the finals for senior class president. In a revote held the next day Miss Scott edged Mathews 61 to 59. Stegeman was declared junior class president by default when Jim Montgomerie, who had also reached the finals, was declared ineligible because his grade point was below the minimum.

May princesses elected were Dixie Schepher, junior; Jan Smith, sophomore; and Trudy Nieuwboer, freshman.

T. HARRY WILLIAMS

Dr. T. Harry Williams Found Entertaining and Informative

To be a great general, a man must have character which includes moral courage and plain nerve, said Dr. T. Harry Williams, Brown and Haley lecturer, in three addresses April 3, 4, and 5. He spoke on "A Trio of Generals" from the north during the Civil War.

In the first speech, he evaluated the character of General George B. McClellan. McClellan was worshipped by his army and was said to have had a "love affair with the army en masse." He couldn't bear to lose his men in battle and constantly overestimated the number and strength of the enemy, according to Williams. He vacillated emotionally and continually withdrew when he might have been successful. McClellan was an American aristocrat and his qualities included being a great organizer and trainer; however, he was shackled with excessive caution. According to Williams, McClellan had no sense of realism. He saw things as he wished to see them. McClellan would not accept the responsibility for his defeats. He

Comment

A famous old phrase is, "You can't legislate morals." Perhaps the adage applicable to UPS is, "You can't legislate culture." Some of those in authority believe that the students, for their own good, should attend "voluntary" convocation. By locking the Student Center, the library and the offices in Jones Hall, they hope to give culture to all students whether or not they want that particular brand.

Since we are quoting cliches, another is quite fitting: "you can lead a horse to water but you can't make him drink." The method used to motivate student attendance at convocation should be one of attraction, not coercion.

The following want ad appeared in the Tacoma News Tribune:

ATTENTION, capitalists and other employers. World's finest young (22) employee is again available for employment. Will readily accept large salary, or less, somewhat reluctantly. Call Dennis, WA. 7-9841. Oh yes, UNEDUCATED at UPS.

A certain dean of the faculty, who does not wish to be named, makes this reply:
Dear Mr. Flannigan,
WE TRIED!

Student Teachers Needed As Leaders

"Student teachers are needed to lead discussion groups for the Student National Education Association's regional conference April 14," said Miss Annabel Lee. One student teacher each from the elementary and secondary levels will meet at PLU with representatives from UPS, PLU, and the University of Washington.

Miss Lee said, "This is an opportune time to attend the conference since it will not interfere with the preparation of classes due to spring vacation."

Dr. Williams States Views

In the interview, Williams explained that he had chosen three northern generals to lecture on "... to illustrate the composite pattern of northern generalship, the development from the early type to the final." He also said that in a series of lectures, he liked to have a theme that tied them together and the South did not show the change in generalship that the North did.

Dr. Williams became interested in the study of the Civil War "by accident" when he went to graduate school at the University of Wisconsin and took a course from a professor whose field was the Civil War. He went on to say that he heard much about the war during his childhood in Vinegar Hill, Illinois, because U. S. Grant had lived in Galeana, Ill., in 1860, just a few miles away.

Williams commented on the war and its effect on the U. S. "The Civil War has entered into the national consciousness of both the North and the South because it is the great event in our history — the pivot on which so much of our history before and after swings. It was not as important to the American Northwest as it was to the South, because it didn't touch the Northwest as deeply as it did the South. The Southerners have had an experience unique to all other Americans — that of being the only Americans to ever lose a war."

This is the first time that Dr. and Mrs. Williams have been to the Northwest.

was plagued by a sense of persecution, and an inflated ego which approached neurosis.

General William T. Sherman was the subject of Williams' second address. General Sherman's career was one of small successes and large failures. He looked like a business man rather than a general. Under Grant, he gained confidence and assurance. According to Williams his nature had too many facets to make him a good soldier. He was distrustful of democracy, and didn't think the war should be fought to free the slaves.

Sherman was a great engineer. He substituted strategy for tactics and accomplished his objectives without meeting the enemy, but his strategy alone could not win the war.

Ulysses S. Grant, the third general Williams evaluated, demonstrated the character necessary to be a great general. He was an "extraordinary man who looked ordinary." His qualities of deep thought, iron determination, simplicity, and calmness made him successful, according to Williams.

His remand for unconditional surrender hit the imagination of the nation and he had the moral courage to press on and win. Grant's treatment of the defeated has been termed knightly. He was the first general to realize the political significance of the Civil War.

Through his brute force, audaciousness, and determination, he destroyed the enemy. Although Grant was mediocre before and after the war, on the battlefield he had a will to win, said Williams. He was a "complete general," and he struck the blow that won the war. Williams evaluates him as the greatest northern general of the Civil War.

Williams' lectures celebrated the tenth anniversary of the Brown and Haley Lectures. The lectures will be made into a book which will be available in the future.

Student Teachers Honor Supervisors At Banquet Apr. 27

Supervising teachers and principals of UPS student teachers for the school year 1961-62 will be honored at a banquet April 27, from 7 to 9 p.m., in the Student Center. The annual banquet will feature a smorgasbord dinner served from 7 to 8 and introductions and entertainment with a few brief talks starting at 8 o'clock.

The expense of the banquet is included in the student teaching fee. Dr. E. D. Gibbs said that all student teachers are invited to bring their supervising teachers. Replies must be submitted to the education office in Jones 1 by April 13.

Chapel Choir Serves, Sings

The 30-member Chapel Choir has organized as a club this semester and has undertaken several service projects. The choir collected clothes and toys at Christmas time for a Mexican orphanage, and they also collected boxes of dry cereal for the same cause. Recently they circulated a petition around the campus requesting weekly chapel services next year.

To fill their treasury, the members serve for banquets and donate their earnings to the choir. This program is under the direction of Mr. Hillier.

Officers of the Chapel Choir are Dick Avedovich, president; Gwen Seales, vice-president; Anne Whitaker, secretary-treasurer; Dale Miller, librarian, and Donna Williams, devotions. Representatives from each section are also members of the executive council. They are Dave Meyers, bass; Linda Wilgus, tenor; Mary Beth Arbuckle, alto; and Penny Edmund, soprano.

In addition to their philanthropic work, the choir sings for chapel services under the direction of Dr. Charles Fisher, who organized the group through the Choral Society.

STUDENTS AT WORK on UPS float Friday night.

UPS Daffodil Float Flops

By RUTH KNUTSON

The daffodil float never saw the parade this year. By a stroke of misfortune, the UPS entry in the annual Daffodil parade broke down prior to the event. Needless to say, many UPS students were disappointed and chagrined by Saturday afternoon. Sharon Crews, float co-chairman, sadly stated, "The only thing we can see is that the added weight of the daffodils was too much for the front end of the float. The frame steered very well on the way down to Coleman's."

Apparently the main difficulty was lack of experienced workers on this year's float. The students found out too late that ball bearing wheels should have been used. The frame for this year's float was built quite similarly to that of last year's. It was suggested that since the front of the UPS entry last year shimmied excessively more weight be placed forward. The frame just wasn't up to it.

While the loss of the float this year can be chalked up to experience, Miss Crews emphatically said that a float co-chairman or adviser from a previous year should be in on the planning of every UPS float. She and co-chairman Gary Fulton stated that they wished to thank Mr. Coleman of Coleman's Sheet Metal, where the float was decorated, and Mrs. Chessman, of the Student Center, who brought coffee and donuts to the workers.

Students Send Talking Letters To South American Countries

"The best diplomacy is person to person and the next best means is a talking letter," said Dr. Brice Bucklin, Spanish Club adviser, and because of this the Spanish Club has recently been recording letters on tape and sending them to South American countries. Bucklin hopes that through these letters the South Americans will come to know the people of the United States and that a bond of friendship and understanding will develop.

Methodists Sought for Summer Jobs

Methodist college students are being sought for six summer service projects that will involve work, study, and worship on the modern missionary frontiers of the church.

As has been the case each summer for the past 14 years, the Methodist Student Movement and the Boards of Mission and Education are offering opportunities for approximately 120 young men and women to spend about six weeks in projects in the United States and overseas in 1962.

The six projects are: Puerto Rico Work Camp, European Study Seminar, Lay Institute in South Dakota, San Francisco Work Camp, and South American Travel Seminar and Work Camp.

Students who have completed their sophomore year are eligible. Interested students should see Mr. Robert Albertson in the Religious Life Office immediately for application blanks and additional information.

Class Boosts Nat'l Library Week Campaign

President Kennedy recently declared April 8-14 National Library Week, and in conjunction with this Mr. William Lindley's public relations class has been working on a campaign which was accepted by the Pierce County Library Association.

The national theme for the week is to be, "Read — and watch your world grow." The specific emphasis in Pierce County is on elementary school libraries, which the school system reports are sadly understaffed.

The class members and their jobs are: Ed Hoyt, press releases; Miss Georgene Wynkoop, art work; Gary Vander Griend, information and statistics; and Al Petrich, communications problems.

Lindley said he chose this for a class project because it would give the students a good practical problem, help the community, and further university-community relations by participating in affairs beneficial to the community.

The first tape recorded by the UPS Spanish students was sent to Rosario, Argentina. However, it is believed that the tape never reached its destination.

"This may show a prelude to the recent disturbances in Argentina," said Bucklin. Postal strikes are frequent, and there is a mutual lack of trust between the government and the people, he continued. The society is not doing its part and may be evidenced by inadequate delivery of mail. Bucklin said he has not received letters from his friends in Argentina for two months.

Since the loss of the first tape the Barks House of Music in Tacoma has given a tape as a gift to the Spanish Club which will be sent to Lima, Peru, when recorded.

Another center will be set up in Guatemala, said Dr. Bucklin. John Hitchin, a UPS student, will soon return home to Guatemala and plans to notify the cultural center in Guatemala City of the desire of the Spanish Club to exchange tapes with people of Spanish-speaking countries. In this way Bucklin and the Spanish Club hope to establish several centers for exchange of tapes with various Central and South American countries.

The Spanish-speaking people are as anxious to have our English-spoken tapes as we are to receive theirs, Bucklin said. Both cultures study the tapes to help with accent and vocabulary study in language laboratories.

Cross Currents Slated To Hit UPS in May

By TERRY BROOKS

By late May of this year two sophisticated publications will be available in the UPS library — The New Yorker and Cross Currents, a unique presentation of university literature. Cross Currents, 1962, features fifty pages of essays, short stories, and poetry by students of this campus.

Editor Terry Brooks has introduced a money grabbing system whereby non-students may have their names published as patrons of the magazine for a donation of five dollars. The standard subscription rate for non-students, faculty, administration, Communists, intellectuals and other riffraff is $1.00. Students who hold ASB cards receive Cross Currents free.

Edward R. Murrow, former news commentator and now the Director of the United States Information Agency, has written an introduction on "Truth" especially for Cross Currents. Award-winning poet Judith Warner a UPS senior, adds professional material to the '62 issue; her previous work has been published in a national anthology of college poetry. Essay topics and short stories are still being kept under wraps.

Editorial policies are determined by three persons this year: Dean Thomas, President Thompson and Boris A. Forp. says Dean Thomas; "It's all right to step on a few toes, as long as they're little ones." Advises President Thompson; "Don't get us sued," Says Boris A. Forp; "Let 'er rip!"

Miss Tacoma Contest Slated For Friday, June 8

From a coed on the University of Puget Sound campus to American beauty at Atlantic City, New Jersey — the transition is possible for any girl who enters the Miss Tacoma pageant.

The contest is sponsored by the Tacoma Junior Chamber of Commerce and will be held Friday, June 8, at the Mount Tacoma High School auditorium. The girl who wins will go on to compete in the Miss Washington pageant. If the Miss Washington crown fits she will travel to Atlantic City to vie for the most sparkling crown of all, that of Miss America.

According to David Hulo, contest spokesman for the Jaycees, now is the time to apply. Applications may be acquired in Mrs. Curran's office, where complete information will be available. Finalists in the contest will have a sponsor and will be given a contest wardrobe. Contestants will be graded on talent,

In 1961 he received a similar position with the Santa Fe, New Mexico, Opera Company.

Davis was recently invited by Conductor Milton Katims to join the Seattle Symphony. In addition, he has performed solo recitals in many cities of the United States.

UPS Dedicates Coulter To Group Housing History Confab

The new men's group housing unit was dedicated in a ceremony April 1. William W. Kilworth, chairman emeritus of the Board of Trustees, cut the ribbon around the entrance to the central kitchen of the housing unit.

Dr. R. Franklin Thompson introduced guests including Frank Neal, chairman of the committee on fraternities for the Board of Trustees; Richard K. Wasson, chairman of the building committee for the Board of Trustees; Harold Tollefson, mayor of Tacoma; Gerald Banks, bursar of the university; Clark Hillier, assistant bursar; Richard Dale Smith, dean of students; James E. Nelson, director of men's affairs; Dale Robinson, head of food services for the group housing unit; and Dave Shaw, president of IFC.

Over 1000 people attended the open house held after the dedication ceremony. The administration said that they felt that the ceremony and the open house had been highly successful.

A banquet was held Sunday evening, and was attended by UPS sorority and fraternity members and the ceremony officials. Shaw was master of ceremonies at the banquet.

Speakers at the banquet included Larry Stenberg, co-ordinator of student activities; Smith, Nelson, Wasson, Thompson, and Tollefson.

Dr. and Mrs. C. Brewster Coulter will represent UPS at the Pacific Northwest History Conference to be held in Boise, Idaho this Thursday, Friday, and Saturday.

One of Dr. Coulter's main objectives is to meet with the conference's steering committee at 5:30 Friday afternoon to try to obtain the UPS campus as the site for the 1963 conference.

The request for the next meeting is a joint invitation by the University and the Washington State Historical Society.

The conference is the annual gathering of representatives of local museums and Northwest History teachers from the top Northwest colleges and universities.

The main speaker will be John D. Hicks from the University of California at Berkeley. He will deliver his speech Friday night.

Adelphians To Leave Friday

The Adelphian Concert Choir leaves Friday for the British Isles with Dr. Bruce Rodgers, director; Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Misner, chaperones; Mrs. Dorothy Patterson, choir mother; and Mr. Brickley Jones, manager. The group will leave Jones Hall at 6:30 a.m. to board a plane from Sea-Tac Airport which will fly them to Vancouver, then on to London, England.

Both Rodgers and Mrs. Patterson expressed interest in the public relations aspect of the trip. Rodgers feels the choir will be an excellent good-will ambassador representing both Washington and the United States.

Mrs. Patterson is looking forward to contacting the music departments in Britain for comparison with the music education of the United States.

The Choir will be on tour for three weeks. They will make appearances in England, Ireland, Scotland, Canada, and New York.

The Lucky Logger

By STAN FARBER

The University of Puget Sound has turned in a surprisingly strong showing in early season baseball competition. The Loggers, under the direction of head coach Bill Funk and his assistant, Vic Cozzetti, have had to overcome several handicaps to reach the status which they have now assumed as a contender for the conference title.

First of all, there are 11 freshmen on the 15-man Logger roster, making UPS possibly the youngest collegiate baseball team ever to compete in the Northwest.

Second, there has been limited opportunity to use Burns Field because of weather and field conditions. The field was not in playable shape for yesterday's game with Fort Lewis, but may be ready for Friday's double-headed with St. Martin's College.

Third, because of so many newcomers to the team and a new coaching staff, it has been necessary for the players to become acquainted with the abilities of individual players, something which takes time to learn.

Fourth, many of the teams have had much longer workouts than have the Loggers. Some of the other schools in the conference have been working out indoors since January while the Loggers didn't take the field until the middle of March.

Fifth, lack of consistent hitting has hurt the Loggers. There is no real power-hitter on the team, and the hitting is spotty. Bob Nishimoto have proved a pleasant surprise, and the return of freshman Roy Kimbel, who has been injured with a pulled ligament, is expected to add more consistent batting punch to the Puget Sound attack. Roy has been out almost two weeks, but is due back in the line-up this week.

A large measure of the Loggers success might be attributed to consistently good pitching and a good inner defense. The control of the UPS pitchers and their ability to bear down and throw the ball past opposing batters has also been one of the Logger strong points.

The team seems to have an "eager" spirit, one which will not let themselves be beat. The feeling is that the Loggers will be in almost every game they play, and should win a good percentage of them. The coaching staff may also be the best in the league.

Jack Higgins qualified for the national AAU meet for the third straight year when he turned in a 9.5 second time in the 100-yard dash last Saturday afternoon. Qualifying time is 9.6. Jack has run the distance in 9.4, but the Saturday time is outstanding for this early in the season.

Higgins will appear in the nationally - televised Drake Relays April 28.

SHORT STUFF: Gordon Pfeifer was the hero against Fort Lewis April 2 as he struck out six soldiers in five innings and also delivered two singles at the plate. . . Note to new Chopper members: ATTEND THE MEETING THIS WEDNESDAY NIGHT . . . Isadore Washington, back from Lackland AFB, was in town last week and stopped in to watch the Loggers play Fort Lewis.

Logger Net Squad Wins

The University of Puget Sound tennis team toppled the Central Washgton "Wildcats" 4-3 in a match at Ellensburg last Saturday afternoon.

The results:

Dave McElroy (CW) def. Gary Caraew (UPS) 6-1, 6-2; Colin Hergert (CW) def. Dave Wolf (UPS) 6-8, 6-3, 6-2; Gordon Trunkay (UPC) def. Eugene Marble (SW) 7-5, 6-4; Rich Lothian (UPS) def. Dave Crum (SW) 6-3, 6-2; Neal Freeman def. Bill Nakashima 2-6, 6-0, 6-2. McElroy - Herbert def. Carew-Wolf 10-8, 2-6, 6-4; Trunkay - Lothian def. Marble-Crum 7-5, 6-4.

Morris Named Golf Coach

Hank Morris has been re-appointed varsity golf coach, John P. Heinrich, athletic director, announced. He will be a player-coach.

Three lettermen return from last year's squad: senior Gary Allard, junior Rich Stolarski and sophomore (but senior scholastically) Morris.

Newcomers are: sophomore Bill Ashley (Renton), freshman Gary Prisk (East Bremerton), freshman Jim Voughan (Portland), and freshman Mike Weber (Hudson's Bay of Vancouver).

Morris has high hopes for this year's Logger squad which will travel to Western Washington State College for a Thursday match. He hinted that the Loggers might be a strong dark horse by the middle of May when the Evergreen Conference playoffs take place.

He also told The Trail that it is not too late for those who wish to try out for the team to turn out.

Choppers Slate Election Meeting

President Chris Cherbas forecasts the largest turnout of the year for the Chopper meeting tomorrow night in the Central Board room of the Student Center. Meeting time is 9 o'clock. The meeting was postponed last week in deference to the Brown and Haley lectures in the Jones Hall auditorium.

All new members are expected to attend this meeting, according to President Cherbas and Larry Stenberg, Chopper adviser. The 42 students who were selected to membership in the men's spirit organization was announced in last week's edition of The Trail.

Final election of officers will take place at the meeting and plans for a spring project, something to coincide with Century 21, will also be discussed.

Nominees for President are Jim Alexander, Jim Montgomerie and John Whalley. Vice-presidential candidates are Alexander, Montgomerie and Dick Nordhaus.

Jeff Hassler and Jack Paul were nominated for Historian and Stan Farber was the only candidate for Secretary.

2 UPS Grads Give Advanced Recital

Carol Sanford and Sylvia Shaw will give an advanced student recital April 27 at 8:15 p.m. in the Music Building Recital Hall.

Miss Sanford graduated from UPS in 1961 with a BA in Music. She is presently teaching in the Tacoma school district. While with the Adelphians for four years, she was a soloist on tour. She was also a member of the Madrigal Singers.

Miss Sanford is from Belfast, Ireland, one of the scheduled stops on the Adelphian tour to Eudope.

Mrs. Shaw, also a UPS graduate in music education, is teaching in the Tacoma school system. She was a member of the Madrigals and Adelphians for four years and sang as a soloist on tour with the Adelphians for two years.

Puget Sound Baseball Team To Tangle with St. Martin's

The University of Puget Sound will play host to St. Martin's College in a Friday afternoon double-header. Game site is scheduled to be Burns Field (across from the Field-house), but it depends on the condition of the field which was unplayable for yesterday's home opener with Fort Lewis.

Coach Bill Funk will likely send southpaw ace Dennis Peterson and tall right-hander Bob Abelsett to the mound against the Rangers. Fireballing Gordon Pfeifer, who started against Fort Lewis yesterday, and Jim Muller will be available for relief duty.

UPS Beats Rangers

The Loggers defeated St. Martin's 7-6 in 10 innings and 2-0 in a six-inning game shortened by darkness at the Lacey campus last Thursday.

Peterson, who was shaky at the start, settled down to whiff 13 batters while issuing only one walk in the 10-inning struggle. The freshman from Fife gave up only six hits.

The Loggers jumped off to a quick 3-0 advantage in the first inning on a two-run error and Bob Nishimoto's run-producing single. They scored single runs in the sixth and seventh innings before putting together a pair of tallies in the tenth frame to win.

Two errors, a walk, and singles by Nishimoto and Pfeifer accounted for the two last-inning scores.

Peterson who grew stronger as the game progressed, set down 20 Rangers in order and also struck out six members of the losing team in a row.

Fotheringills Hit At Skate Show

Judianne and Jerry Fotheringill of Tacoma, the latter an ex-UPS student, were the hit of a seven-nation figures skating exhibition at Moscow, Russia, last month, according to the Associated Press.

A capacity audience of 15,000 at Moscow's Sports Palace applauded the pair so long and loudly that they had to do three encores. Many of the other performers got no encores and those who did generally got only one.

The Fotheringill brother-and-sister ice skating team are in town for a short visit of two weeks before they return to Colorado Springs to get back to their ice skating lessons.

The Fotheringills are now attending school in Colorado to take advantage of the skating facilities.

The Tacomans finished 10th in the world's meet at Prague, Czechoslovakia. They placed second in senior pairs at the National Figure Skating Championships at Boston earlier in the year.

During their tour for the World Championships, the Fotheringills skated in Italy, Switzerland, Czechoslovakia, Russia and Germany.

Thoreen Doubles

Rich Thoreen banged a pair of doubles to account for both runs in the finale. His third-inning two-bagger led to the first run as he was plated by Dave Ratko's single. He doubled home Dennis Keating, who had singled, in the fourth inning.

Abelsett yielded only a solid single and a bad-hop infield one-baser in the nightcap while striking out eight and giving up no walks.

Nishimoto had three singles and a double in eight plate appearances during the day. Dave Ratko and Thoreen each had three safeties.

Pfeifer Was Hero

Pfeifer was the collegiate hero when the Loggers took on the major-league star-studded Fort Lewis aggregation April 2 and came out 11-0 losers.

The Logger freshman fanned six soldiers — Gene Leek (Los Angeles Angels) twice, Ray Webster (Boston Red Sox), Deron Johnson (Kansas City Athletics), Jim McAnany (Chicago Cubs) and Al Norris (Spokane Indians) once each — and allowed only six hits. He was the victim of poor fielding support by his teammates which, had it not occurred, might have made the score much closer.

The Loggers and Fort Lewis met at Western State Hospital yesterday afternoon. Results were unavailable by press time. The two teams are slated to meet a third time, at UPS, but the date has not been set yet.

Logger Grid Slate Listed

John Heinrich, UPS athletic director and football coach, has announced the 1962 grid schedule.

Only the opener with Willamette and the season-ender with Portland State are non-conference games.

The Central Washington game Oct. 13 is set for the Logger Homecoming. The Wildcats are defending Evergreen Conference champions.

The UPS home games will start at 1:30 in the afternoon. The Whitworth and PLU "road" games will start at 1:30 and the Whitworth game is scheduled for an 8 p. m. start.

The Eastern time hasn't been set yet, but it is likely that it will be a night game unless the Savages name the date as their Homecoming game. Should Eastern dub the game as Homecoming (which will fall on the date as the Cheney school's Homecoming last fall), the contest will be played at 1:30 in the afternoon.

The schedule:

- Sept. 22—UPS at Willamette, 8 p. m.
 Sept. 29—UPS at Whitworth, 1:30 p. m.
 Oct. 6—UPS at Pacific Lutheran (Lincoln Bowl), 1:30 p. m.
 Oct. 13—Central at UPS, 1:30 p. m. HOME COMING.
 Oct. 20—UPS at Eastern.
 Oct. 27—Western at UPS, 1:30 p. m.
 Nov. 3—Whitworth at UPS, 1:30 p. m.
 Nov. 10—Pacific Lutheran at UPS, 1:30 p. m.
 Nov. 17—Portland State at UPS, 1:30 p. m.

Higgins Captures Wins in 100, 220 At Lewis & Clark

The University of Puget Sound's star sprinter, Jack Higgins, raced to wins in the 100 and 220 yard dashes in 9.5 and 22.3 seconds respectively in a triangular meet with Pacific Lutheran and Lewis and Clark at Lewis and Clark. After three false starts the speedy Higgins exploded out of his blocks and sped to his best time of the season in the century.

UPS accumulated 19 points with two blue ribbons and three seconds. Darell Robinson cleared the bar at 6 feet even in the high jump, Ty Stroh heaved the javelin 181 ft. 8 in., and Ron Cultum shuffled over the 220 low hurdles in 25.7 seconds to garner runner-up honors in these events.

The Logger thinclads meet Seattle Pacific and PLU at Parkland Saturday and return to Luteville, Tuesday for a match with Western Washington and the Lutes.
